

THE MINOR PROPHETS

I. 17 Books of Prophecy

1. Written by 16 men (if each wrote the book bearing their name).
2. Prophecy occupies about 1/3 of the Holy Bible.
3. One of breakdowns Jesus gave of Old Testament. Lk. 24:44.
4. Some Minor Prophets appear earlier than any of the Major Prophets (Joel, Jonah, Amos). (Note end of Isaiah - Pg. 41 for time in which they appeared).
5. There are seventeen prophetic books in the Old Testament. They are subdivided into major and minor prophets. This difference is made not because of their importance but because of the amount of material written.
6. The period of the prophets in Israel covered five hundred years from the ninth to the fourth century B.C. Then the voices of the prophets were silenced until John the Baptist.
 - A. Major Prophets - Isa., Jer., Ezek., Dan., take up through last century and half of Judah - through the captivity.
 - B. Minor Prophets begin before this time and continue to the end of the Old Testament.
7. The poetical books belong to the golden age of the nation. The prophetic books belong to the dark ages of God's chosen people.'

II. The Prophets.

1. The Prophets were men whom God raised up during the dark days of Israel's history. They were the religious patriots of the hour. Read II Kings 17:13.
2. Three-Fold Purpose of a Prophet.
 - A. One employed in the public proclamation of religious addresses, quite like preachers today. The prophet's chief duty was to deal with the moral and religious life of his own people during his day.
 - B. One who worked as a scribe in writing history, copying manuscripts much of Old Testament Scripture.
 - C. One who could discern and foretell future events. He spoke of judgment that would come to pass to the people because of their sins.
3. They were the most unpopular men in their day for they dealt with the moral and religious conditions of the hour! Prophets were sent when the nation was out of step with God-- when they were walking in disobedience. Their words were always very pointed.

III. The Prophets fell into Three Areas.

1. Before Captivity
 - A. Time of Israel's Captivity. Joel, Jonah, Amos, Hosea, Isaiah, Micah
 - B. Time of Judah's Captivity. Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Nahum, Habakkuk, Zephaniah
2. During Captivity- Ezekiel, Daniel
3. After Captivity- Haggai, Zechariah, Malachi

LAMENTATIONS

- I. Meaning Of The Term "Lamentations."
 - A. Mournful poems.
 - B. The sorrows of Jeremiah in regard to the fate of the Israelites.
 - C. His mission was to testify to a sinful and stubborn people, misled by false prophets, and to witness their doom. He saw his nation pass from the happy prosperous conditions under Josiah to their state of iniquity under the last four godless kings, saw the invasions of the Babylonians and the final destruction of the city. No other prophet of Judah or Israel was placed in Jeremiah's position. He stands alone in circumstances of the most desperate and heart-breaking nature faithfully and unflinchingly declaring the word of Jehovah, of the crushing judgment that was to fall upon the nation.

 - B. For their cruel insults and displayed enmity to the Jews after the capture of their city. (10-16).
 - II. Restoration of the Jews. (17-21).
- VIII. Comments
 - A. The Book deals exclusively with the Edomites and their hatred of Judah. He tells them the long account is to be closed. It would seem that these people could not forget that Jacob had secured the birth-right from Esau, their ancestor. Obadiah enumerates the things upon which the Edomites relied. The first was their strong position in their rocky fastnesses, a natural fortress. But this will not save them when judgment falls upon them for the indignities they heaped upon fallen Judah. Their allies will not save them because the nations are under the Judgment of God; the day of God's vengeance is at hand. "The day of Jehovah" announced first by Joel is repeated by Obadiah. In the third place their wisdom will not save them. Supported by these resources they will be rendered helpless and there is nothing else upon which they can rely. What will their resources amount to when they deal with the God of might and wisdom, the God of Nations"!
 - B. The Book became a favorite one to the Jews because it denounces Edom.
 - C. The Book teaches "we reap what we sow".
 - D. We cannot afford to rejoice at others misfortune or suffering.
 - E. Let us not feel too secure from temptation because of our position or heritage. (Edom had mountainous country). I Cor. 10:12.

The last three books of history in the Old Testament - Ezra, Nehemiah and Esther - give us the story of this time. They cover one hundred years following the decree of Cyrus the King, allowing the Jews to return to their land (536-432 B. C.). (Read Ezra 1:1-4).

From Nehemiah to the beginning of New Testament times, four hundred years passed by. During this period no Biblical prophet spoke or wrote. In fact, it is called the "period of silence."

It was about 285 B. C., that the Old Testament was translated into Greek. This version of the Scriptures is called the "Septuagint," meaning seventy, because seventy noted Hebrew scholars did this great work. You will find it referred to by Roman numerals LXX.

In 63 B. C. Rome gained possession of Palestine, preparing the way and the time for Jesus to be born. The Jews had some political liberty, but were required to pay a yearly tax to the Roman government.

There were 14 books designated as "Apocrypha" ie, "concealed" which came into existence. These books are: Two books of Esdras or Ezra; Tobit, Judith, additions to Esther, the Wisdom of Solomon, Ecclesiasticus, or Jesus the son of Sirach, Baruch, Song of the Three Children, History of Susanna, Bel and the Dragon, Prayer of Manasseh, and the two books of Maccabees.

Style of writing of Apocryphal books indicate they were part of Jewish-Greek literature of Alexandria. These books are uninspired, none of them were ever quoted by Jesus and his inspired Apostles. However, first and second Maccabees have some historic value in regard to the Jewish heroic struggle for liberty. 175-135 B.C.

For more detailed discussion of these books, see Halley's Page 402-412. Please see Pages 387-401 of Halley's Bible Handbook for a series of Old Testament passages relating to Christ and His Church. Also note the next page.
